Our Opinions

Student Union' Again

Students will be faced with many decisions in the all-school election October 27.

Students will be faced with many decisions in the all-school election October 27. The first one is whether or not to use their own ideas for those of their friends, when balloting, there will be the several points on which students will be asked to vote.

All students will vote for three Homecoming Queen candidates, her court and attendants, Spring Festival chairman, class officers for all four classes, and the proposal to raise student activity fees $4 per term in order to start a fund for a new Student Union building.

Freshmen students will vote for Student Council representatives, in addition to expressing their views on the other questions. Five or six are a lot of things to vote on. Each is important to all students on campus.

All-school elections sometimes fail to secure a good voting turnout.

We believe this election will have a better-than-average turnout, however. Not just because of the number of things to be voted on, but because of the importance of the activity fee question.

The proposal to raise the student activity fees will be presented on a separate ballot. It will be worded as follows:

Do you favor increasing the student activity fee one dollar ($1), which fund shall be used to defray the cost of a proposed four-story Student Union building?

We have little doubt that this proposal will receive the approval of Southern students. Those students who vote in all-school elections generally are the ones who are actively interested in school activities. They will surely give their approval to this proposal.

The problem is to secure an overwhelming approval, rather than a meager margin of assent.

Parents' Day

Students will have a chance to show Southern to their parents next Saturday which has been designated Parents' Day. It is a day when parents are formally invited to University events, and as a result, get only a glimpse of what goes on at school.

Through their own knowledge of the school, and the students' mouths and news releases appearing in the hometown papers. Very often, some parents receive no information at all about Southern Illinois University.

It won't hurt any student to write his folks personally and invite them to be here Saturday.

Even though the Office of Student Affairs sent out letters of invitation to all parents, these are a letter from a daughter or son. Pop and Mom may be a lot more understanding about the problem of the student if he shows a little thoughtfulness in securing them a ticket. Even though it costs more money in the mail next time!

Father and Mother might not expect one to come home to old-fashioned Southern, but the activities going on down here on a busy weekend. The high school students seemed to enjoy themselves last weekend, and the folks aren't so old that they can't have a good time too.

MAIL BOX

(Brief letters of general interest to students, faculty, or other readers of the Egyptian will be considered for publication in this column. Letters of a personal or anonymous nature will not be considered. Writers' names will be withheld at their request, however.)

Editor,

I was absolutely shocked to find that you had nothing about the fire at Woody Hall. Such a big event and how come you didn't have it in your newspaper? We, the occupants of Woody Hall feel the slight strongly and suggest that you rectify this error!

In any case here is a brief account of what actually happened:

As the old adage goes—"Where there's smoke there's fire"—but in this case it was no smoke. Everybody got all shook up! I cleaned the atmosphere of all internal When we heard the spine-chilling news we were quite sure that "Dragoon" had come to Carbondale, but it had not.

Everybody joined in the fun and it seemed everybody up! A young man was heard to remark—"I sure knew there was hot stuff in that dormitory!" Hot stuff or not, the fire department seldom got such a chance and they made the most of it. They were happy! It was the first drill they had in months!

It was the event of the semester! Something to write about to the folks back home! Hadn't seen a crowd like this since the day Carbondale was in the margin (Yah! Yah!)

What of the fire? What did one fire, more-or-less, matter anyway? If you look, you may print it. If not just toss it into the fire! If you watergate, better if you print it, however, please withhold my name.

Yours sincerely,
Student From India

Editor,

I agree that something should be done about enlarging the Student Union. I'm continually being frustrated by the crowds that appear there. Not that I mind crowds, but I hate to walk across a room when I am continually tripping over chairs, tables and ash trays.

When finally made my way through the jam into the Oasis, I find that I have to wait in line 15 minutes at the two-by-four soda fountain.

When and if I get what I want, I have to stand to eat or drink it. Something must be done to increase the facilities the Union now has. It is a disgrace to be up to the students of SIU to this action.

Sincerely,
Squeezed Student

Editor,

For the life of me, I cannot see what all this agitation for the Student Union is about. Our present building hardly has the "new" worn off.

Why can't students be satisfied with what they have?

Sincerely,
E. J. P.

(Dear E. J. P. — You sound like someone who would struggle to keep the kerosene lamp in vogue, had any progress already made it a relic of the past. Ed.)

We must not just approve it. We must approve it heartily. We can give it the support which it deserves by turning out in record numbers for the all-school election and voting "yes" on this proposal.

We believe, as we have said before, that all sides to each question should be aired fully. We offer for the medium of the Egyptian, with only normal editorial reservations, for the expression of ideas on both sides of this question.

We feel that whether the student support or defeat this question, they should base their voting on an enlightened decision. They should have no doubts in their minds about the justification of their actions.

The first meeting in a series will be held tonight at 7:30 in the Student Union for the purpose of discussing this proposal. Students who have any questions at this time may find their answers by attending this meeting. An inquiry at the Student Union desk will be sufficient to find the exact meeting place of the group.

SIU Artist To Exhibit Pottery In Chicago

Leon Moberg, SIU graduate art student, will display 50 pieces of pottery in a two-man art show, along with Kamtila Rathod young American painter, in Chicago beginning Oct. 24.

The exhibit, ending Nov. 13, will be shown at "La Boutique Fantastique," 737 North Rush St. Moberg "threw the pot" while at Monmouth College, Monmouth, Ill., this summer. His exhibition will include bottles, bowls, vases, and just "pots" as he terms them. All pieces are made of Western Stoneware clay, and the technical processes used are his own. He creates each glaze and the firing conditions to give the desired effect.

The 26-year-old artist began his college work at Monmouth in 1944. After serving in the Navy, he returned for another year and a half, transferring to Western School of Fine Arts, Macon, Ga., where he began his work in ceramics graduating in 1948 with a B.F.A. degree.

From there he went to Atlanta where he worked and taught in Olga Hentley's Ceramic studio. Last fall he received a graduate assistantship at SIU.

He has shown work at the Gallery, the Caskie, the Balcony of Memphis, Shanty, Rides, Inc., and Spencer's Ltd., all of Atlanta; Telfair Academy at Savannah, Ga.; Syracuse Museum, Syracuse, N.Y.; the Wichita Art Gallery, Wichita, Kan.; St. Louis Art Museum, Cape Girardeau, and a SIU.

Cook County Club To Elect Officers

Chicago area students will elect officers for their newly-formed Cook County Club tomorrow at 10 a.m. in Allyn 300.

At the last meeting, Dr. Paul Hunsinger, assistant professor of speech and sponsor of the club, gave an introduction speech, welcoming all Chicago area students, and outlined tentative plans for the group.

Any student who is from the Chicago area or Lake County area of Indiana is eligible for membership.

LEON F. MOBERG, graduate art student, works on one of his current projects. Fifty pieces of his pottery will be placed on exhibit in La Boutique Fantastique Gallery in Chicago, beginning Oct. 24.

Sportsmanship Award Presented To Salukis

Southern's Salukis may have wound up in fourth place in the IAC race last year, but they were tops in sportsmanship.

At the conference track meet last spring Southern was presented with a banner emblematic of outstanding sportsmanship. The award was officially presented to the University at the SIU-Northern game Saturday.

Southern has displayed decency and sportsmanship in all sports which is more than could be said of the other schools. As a bit of irony, the Northern Salukis title was a bit on the rough side.

Southern can win this award another year. Nothing does more for a school than good sportsmanship, whether win or lose. The display of such a spirit in this day of substitution and outright buying of players is gratifying. Southern should be proud.

Theta Xi Fraternity Installs New Officers

Ben Shuppert was installed president of Theta Xi at their Monday night meeting.

Other officers installed were: Bob Edgell, vice-president; Joe Keck, corresponding secretary; Walter Stieglitz, house manager; and Gerald McGovern, pledge captain.

Dick Curtis is new social chairman.

Sauter-Finegan Among Many Big Names At SIU

By Don Phillips

"Ed Sauter and Bill Finegan" will be added this year to the roster of celebrities who have contributed toward successful SIU Homecomings. Big name bands annually share the spotlight with a variety of outstanding events directed by Southern students.

The Little Theatre production of "Kiss and Tell" brought recognition from a Hollywood star in 1948. SIU received the following letter from the actress who played the lead role of Corliss Archer in the movie version:

"I am thrilled that you have 'Kiss and Tell' for your Homecoming production. I hope it will provide half as much fun for those of you who see it as it did me in making it. The cast was wonderful and making the picture was a riot from the first reel to the last."

"My best wishes to all who are gathered at Southern Illinois University for the Homecoming celebration. Be good, but have fun!"

Cardinal, Shirley Temple, Orin Tucker and his "dances band in the land," provided music for the 1948 Homecoming. SIU lost their football game to Western 13-7.

Fredrick Martin and his orchestra highlighted the agenda for the 1949 "Diamond Jubilee Festivities." The year Homecoming publicity took to the air — literally. From the 1949 Egyptian files ...

The main publicity stunt will be a plane touring Southern Illinois towns. The plane, equipped with a siren, will have a huge banner bearing Homecoming publicity information.

"The Male Animal" was the Diamond Jubilee stage production. Southern was defeated in the football game by the Eastern Panthers 26-13. A 14-14 tie resulted from the 1950 Homecoming football game between the SIU "Maroon" and Illinois Normal. The Little Theatre production for the year was "Kiss and Tell." Jack Fina and his orchestra played at the 1950 concert and dance.

The following year "Goodbye My Fancy" was produced for Homecoming by the Little Theatre organization. The 1951 football season was summed up with the following sports headline in the Egyptian ...

"Saluki's Continue Losing Ways — Drop Homecoming Game 48-19."

Al Trace and his "shuffle rhythm" orchestra including the "Sinfonias" furnished the music for Southern's 1951 Homecoming dance. Lola Amosch, who recorded "Pretty Eyed Baby" was featured vocalist.

Ralph Martrix, "Caruso of the Trumpet," played for last year's Homecoming concert and dance. "First Lady" was the Little Theatre production. Audrey Mayer, St. Louis, received honors, being crowned the 1952 Homecoming Queen. Washington University's Bear, squeezed by SIU 14-13, lost years Homecoming game at McAndrew Stadium.

Dauna Smith Heads The Duchess House

Dauna Smith has been elected to head the Duchess, organizing women's house for the year. Serving with her will be Nancy Bergfeld as vice-president, and Carol Schoenman as ISA representative.

Miss Schoenman and Felicia Menkosky are new at the Duchess this year. There are six girls staying in the house.

Almost all of the male students in the AF ROTC program have an item known as the "distasteful Air Force blue uniform."

Those who have not yet been to the Supply Room in the basement of the Parkinson building not only don't have a uniform but they also are taking the risk of accumulating some demerits. These demerits, according to the Cadet Guide, will be reflected in the final laboratory grade compiled by the instructor.

Wearing of the uniform, however, is not the sole manner of distribution of demerits. The Cadet Guide mentions unexcused absences, wearing incomplete uniforms, untidiness, and failure to comply with the rules and customs of military courtesy. The latter has been noted among the Staff, to be the outstanding error committed by most cadets.

In typical service fashion, let's run through a short story about this course.

Cadet Doe is on the campus bright and early Tuesday morning. He is in uniform since it is "lab day," and he is headed toward the Parkinson building to read the Cadet bulletin board for any late information. On his way he sees his friend and fraternity brother, Bill Smith. Bill is in the Advanced Class so he is a Cadet Officer and he also is in uniform for the drill hour. As they pass, Doe waves his hand in a "V" fashion and with a smile says, "Hi, Bill," and continues on his way. (Error number one—"All cadets are required to salute cadet officers when both are in uniform," Demerit? Now Doe is sure's alone in his error. Bill Smith should have stopped and corrected Doe. Smith was subject to demerits if a staff member had been present.)

Nearing his objective, the Parkinson lab, Doe meets his Air Science instructor, an Air Force Commissioned Officer. What does Doe Do? You guessed it. He slept well last night so he gives out with a cheerful "Good morning," but no salute and no "at ease." (Error number two—"Cadets are required to salute senior officers and Staff members."

the building to and behold he is confronted by two non-commissioned officers of the ROTC Staff. What a day! What should he do? A voice inside reminds him of the last mistake. Another voice says, "Turn and run!" His indecision becomes his downfall as the two men are upon him.

Now the words which transpire at this meeting are unmentionable. Everyone knows what uncouth creatures these military Sergeants are. Had Doe followed the old military proverb, "When in doubt—salute," much of this could have been prevented.

He manages to bear the burden of the "talk" and though visibly shaken, he enters the building, wipes the sweat from his brow, and reads the latest news on the board. A final blow could come in the form of a notice of drill cancellation, but the "gods are not that angry" at him.

Doe is a fictitious character of course, and he did have a rare number of demerits, but one of his mistakes occurs every time the cadet body is in uniform. As an aid to the 1939 Homecoming game, here are a few rules which should always be kept in mind:

1. A uniform should be worn in its entirety or not at all.
2. Wear the uniform in the correct manner. If you don't know ask. ASK your cadet officer or some member of the ROTC Staff. Don't risk a meeting with one of those people in "be store."
3. Cadets in the freshman and sophomore sections are required to salute all cadet officers and all members of the AF ROTC Staff when in uniform. Junior and Senior ROTC Cadets are required to salute senior officers and Staff members.
4. Always use "Sir" when talking to a cadet of higher rank or to a Staff member.

The Cadet Guide is a ready reference for each cadet as well as the Leadership manual. Their use may mean higher drill grades and less "swat!"

Graduate School Office Moved

The Graduate School office has moved from the Deans' barracks on Harwood Ave. to 1310 S. Thompson, formerly occupied by the Board of Trustees office.

Dr. Willis B. Swartz, Dean of the Graduate School, now has more office space, but the change was made so that Dr. Raymond Dey and Dr. Ernest J. Simon could house their offices in the Deans' Barracks, according to Dr. George Hand, vice president of SIU.

Dr. Dey is Director of the SIU Extension Service, while Dr. Simon heads the Vocational Technical Institute. Both were appointed deans at a recent meeting of the Board of Trustees.

Although details of the moving of the VTI and Extension Service are not complete, it is expected soon, according to Dr. Hand.

Little Theater Meeting Tonight

A special meeting of the Little Theatre has been called for tonight at 6:30. Pictures for the 1954 Obelisk will be taken.

Looking Back

By Larry Kolesky

As we existance to the good old days of Southern Illinois Normal University, we can recall when the enrollment was a "bulging" 442 in 1910. . . . Almost comparable to the junior class of 1933.

Remember 1917? Well, the enrollment was up to an unprecedented 685. . . . These students of antiquity would think we were congested with today's 3,384 students. They would be right. I'm still trying to get my ROTC uniform by standing in a collegiate line.

We all like, or rather attempt dancing one time or another in our college days. . . . And we expect a good orchestra. . . . In the 1922 Homecoming issue of the Egyptian, a band wasn't ever mentioned. It stated: "Just an excellent orchestra would play."

Cape Girardeau won the football 12-7. . . . This was and was of human skin wasn't enough. . . . At 3 p. m. on the East campus property, class fights existed. . . . Fights, combats, and strength tests were attempted. . . . No wonder only an excellent orchestra would play. . . . All the men were home in bed. . . . Things were looking too good during the 1926 Homecoming. . . . The Maroons 23, Charleston 0. . . .

Coming. . . . Now, in the 1922 Homecoming game, here are a few rules which should always be kept in mind:

1. A uniform should be worn in its entirety or not at all.
2. Wear the uniform in the correct manner. If you don't know ask. ASK your cadet officer or some member of the ROTC Staff. Don't risk a meeting with one of those people in "be store."
3. Cadets in the freshman and sophomore sections are required to salute all cadet officers and all members of the AF ROTC Staff when in uniform. Junior and Senior ROTC Cadets are required to salute senior officers and Staff members.
4. Always use "Sir" when talking to a cadet of higher rank or to a Staff member.

The Cadet Guide is a ready reference for each cadet as well as the Leadership manual. Their use may mean higher drill grades and less "swat!"

Now in 1948, some of us realized reality existed. . . . We began to comb our hair. . . . Why? . . . We noticed the cute girl or boy next door. . . .

Homecoming game. . . . These guys are making it a habit. . . . Ourin Tucker played at the dance. . . . Miss Emma Douglas, was crowned Homecoming Queen. . . . The Tri-Sigs won first place in the Homecoming game. . . . Fourteen hands were represented in this parade. . . . What a jazz concert.

Interpretative Dancers To Appear At SIU

By Larry Conner

The widely-known interpretative dance team of Frederico Rey and Pi-lar Gomez will appear at Shryock Auditorium at 8 p. m. on Oct. 23.

The dance team has, in three years of Europe, played to audiences along the French Riviera, in Cannes, Nice, Monte Carlo, Biarritz, and Deauville. Admission for students will be by activity cards.

The repertoire of the team includes authentic Basque, Flamenco, Gypsy, Mexican, and South American dances. Manguera, classic Boleros, and ballets, including a condensed version of Manuel de Falla's "El Ambrunjo." Their music is taken from original folk tunes and from the works of great Spanish composers.

Federico Rey is a native of the Basque country in France and originally concentrated on painting, and design, however, in 1937, he came to America and joined the troupe of La Argentina, later becoming her partner.

In 1946, after serving four years in the Medical Corps, he formed his own company, under the name of "Rhythms of Spain," and toured the United States, Canada, Cuba, and Mexico for three years.

Pilar Gomez joined "Rhythms of Spain" during its second year. She was born in Mexico City, where she studied dancing at the National Theatre School of the Palacio de Bellas Artes. Miss Gomez made her professional debut at the age of nine in the ballet of the Mexico National Opera, then, still in her teens, was choreographer and ballerina at the National Theatre and at El Pano, Mexico City's leading night club.

A representative of the New York City Opera saw her there and invited her to become choreographer and prima ballerina for the company. For the next three years, until she journeyed here, she created and performed ballets of such operas as "Carmen" and "La Traviata."

Woody Hall Lounges Serve Many Needs

By Sue Alice Martin

When Woody Hall's 13 lounges are completed they will serve a variety of needs for the residents, their friends and families. Some are furnished; others are empty; others are filled with unpacked furniture.

There will be a lounge on the main floor of each of the three units to serve as a reception room for friends, family, and dates. On the second and third floor of each unit will be a small informal room for house meetings and a place to lounge in pajamas. These informal areas will be used only by the girls living in the area the lounge is in.

Also on the ground floor will be four larger lounges available to all girls and their friends.

The lounge in Wing A is planned to be a quiet reading room. It is furnished now with only the green plants and a few other details of the final plans missing. It is furnished with wicker furniture.

The girls living at Woody through their House Council and library committee will secure magazines for the room.

Wing B has two lounges as it is larger than the other two wings. One of these is to be a formal room which can be used for teas and receptions.

The other lounge in Wing B is to be a recreation room furnished in ruffish oak.

An area in Wing C is to be a rumpled room and also furnished in ruffish oak.

Southern Takes First Home Game

Salukis Humble Huskies; Passes Produce Points

By Bob Post

The Northern Illinois Huskies came all the way to Carbondale only to meet up with a Southern Huskie — quarterback Joe — who carried defeat for them in his right arm.

Huskie came off the bench late in the first quarter and proceeded to lead the Salukis to their first victory of the season in their first home game. He completed 10 passes in 14 attempts for a total of 158 yards and three touchdowns.

The Salukis aerial attack was augmented by the bull-like running of Warren McCullough and Jack Schneider. McCullough carried the ball 11 times and gained 79 yards for one touchdown and an average of 7.1 yards per carry. Schneider logged the leather nine times and picked up 62 yards and one touchdown for an average of 6.9 yards per carry.

All told, the Salukis gained 162 yards on the ground and 187 yards through the air, while the Huskies could only muster 63 yards on the ground and 87 yards through the air.

Both teams scored in the first period, with the Salukis having the distinction of tallying first. Southern took the opening kick-off and moved the ball down to Northern's 23, where a lost fumble halted their drive. But the Huskies couldn't go anywhere and were forced to punt. The punt was taken by Gene Ar-

Northern tallied shortly after the kick-off. With the ball on his own 29, quarterback Harnes faced back as if to pass but executed a quick hand-off to Bauer instead. Bauer found a hole in the SIU line and Salukis' 29 yard stripe before he was brought down. Two plays later, Harnes threw a flat pass to Sholz, who scampered the rest of the way for the touchdown. McKillen kicked the extra point.

Southern's second score came in the second quarter after Schneider returned a punt 12 yards to the Northern 40. A five yard penalty and a 14 yard jump by Schneider put the ball on third 4, from where McCullough circled end for the score. The try for extra point was no good, ground and 87 yards through the air.

Leroy Siville added two points to SIU's score when he smeared Harnes in the end zone for a safety. Arondelli added six more on an 18 yard pass from Huskie with 20 seconds left in the first half. Again the try for extra point failed.

Schneider displayed a beautiful brand of broken field running in the third quarter when he took a

Who's Who For SIU

By Don Primas

Even though an injury kept Hank Warfield, one of the Northern game's leading the Salukis in rushing.

The big fullback has ripped through opposing lines for a total of 144 yards in 23 plays, compiling an average of 6.3 yards per carry. Warfield's yardage was made in the Southeast Missouri and Illinois Normal games. A leg injury kept him on the bench during the Northern game.

Jack Schneider is runner-up to Warfield in the rushing department, having 107 yards in 28 carries for an average of 4.8 yards. The hard-running halfback is in his second year as a regular.

Joe Huskie is leading the team in total offense with a total net gain of 310 yards. Huskie has 300 yards via the aerial route and 10 on the ground in 54 plays. Runner-up to Huskie in total offense is Warfield with 144 yards.

Huskie also leads the team in forward passing. The veteran quarterback has completed 27 passes out of 49 attempts for a total of 300 yards and four touchdowns. His average is healthy .550.

Ray Tabacchi, who shares the quarterbacking job with Huskie, has an even 300 passing percentage with three completions in six attempts, a total of 39 yards.

DAN SMITH, SALUKI END almost got this one. He caught it in a flying leap. An instant later, however, he crashed to the ground and the ball flew out of his hands. It was a nice try.

LEO WILSON snags one of the many completed passes that spelled doom for Northern in Saturday's game. "Leapin' Leo has caught 9 passes for a total of 104 yards this year.

as against 73 for their opponents. They are a little bit behind in rushing, 516 yards to 468 yards, and are ahead in punting, 501 yards to 450 yards. The Salukis hold an edge in forward passing, getting 374 yards while their opponents were getting 300 yards.

Henry Ford had to chain his first car, an 1896 model, to telegraph poles to keep the curious from walking off with it. The car had two forward speeds, 10 and 20 miles an hour, but no reverse gear and no brakes.

Some set up the final score by intercepting a pass at midfield in the third quarter and running it back to the 30. Doug Kay took over the quarterback spot and, using mostly a spread formation, moved the ball down to the 10. The play-off came on a pass from Kay to Jim Gelch, who made a nice twisting catch.

JACK SCHNEIDER, one of the backfield stars of the Northern game, Schneider who really hit his stride in this game has carried the ball 28 times this year for a net of 107 yards. Average — 3.9 per try.

Southern Bees Tie Eastern 20-20

After giving up 20 points early in the game, the Saluki "B" team came back with 20 points of their own to tie the Eastern Illinois Panthers to a standstill in McAndrew Stadium last week.

The Panthers scored twice in the early part of the second to take a commanding lead. The Salukis were hampered in their first game of the season by fumbles and penalties.

IN THE FIRST quarter, the Southern line got off to a pretty slow start. They picked up on that though and played a good, sharp game. Line coach BOB FRANZ, who showed some good stuff. They continually pushed the Northern pass. This paid off in two points when they scored the safety. After Northern's initial rush for a TD, the line stiffened up and made the Huskies pay for every yard gained.

Some of the outstanding men in this game were: "MOOSE" SIVILLE. Siville was all over the field on defense. He was the one that had charged for the safety. TIM GOVERS, was another standout on defense, the big Murphysboro lad has looked good in every game and in this one he stood out in particular.

There were some more men who played a very tough brand of ball in a very tough game. Capt. CHARLIE PARKER showed good, solid line play. As usual, CLIFF JOHNSON looked good. GENE KROLOK and DAVE STROUP raised some lumps on a Northern line which wasn't composed of any punies in a long shot.

IN LOOKING at the backfield Saturday night, I saw some definite improvements. McCULLOUGH seemed to hit his stride in this game. The big ex-GI is no speedster, but he showed foot-work surprising in a man his size. JACK SCHNEIDER, as anybody who saw the game noticed, is tough. I like the way that Schneider puts his head down and moves out. This type of a runner is hard to stop. JOE HUSKIE looked better in this game than any other this year. When Henry has his passing arm and eye in shape, he's hard to beat.

THERE COMES a time in every self-respecting sports writers' life when he must go out on a limb and make some predictions. Why, I don't know, but that's the way it is. So here goes.

First I'll start with our next game, Michigan Central is a very tough team. They won the conference last year and to me, so far their look to me like a cinch to repeat. Playing on our home field will help, but I think the Chips will be a little too tough. It looks like the Chips in this game by a quite a bit.

AS SOON as the Salukis recover from the Central game they will face another tough team — Michigan Normal. Many think that they will beat Central out for the championship. Last year they took the Salukis 30-6. The Salukis are Those of you who were fortunate — and smart enough to stay and see the Northern game, saw a good example of tough football. Last year the Huskies threatened a green Saluki team to some mean football. Sunday the Salukis repaid this debt 4- with interest. In my opinion it was a debt well paid.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

WILDROOT CREAM-OIL

"So hairy your head is the sand," shrieked Sheedy's chick. You'll never put a wing on my finger until you start using Wildroot Cream-Oil on that hairy head. It's America's favorite hair conditioning. Keeps hair combed. Without any trace of greasiness. Removes dandruff, keeps hair shiny. Relieves annoying dryness. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test." Paul looked so good the very first time he used Wildroot Cream-Oil, his pigeon egged him on until he proposed. So why don't you buy a bottle or tube only as your toilet goods counter. And each time you have a haircut, ask for Wildroot Cream-Oil on your hair. Then no gal will ever give you the bird.
